SM TRAVELS TO SPRINGFIELD

Panel Discussion Briefs Directors

The Second Annual Teacher's Institute Forum of Burlington was opened last Tuesday, October 21, by the sermon which was delivered by Rev. Gerard Duford, S.S.E., for the Solemn Pontifical Mass.

After renditions by the Cathedral High School Band and a number of addresses, the panels were introduced.

The major panel moderated by Mr. Edward F. Murphy, consisted of the following speakers: Rev. John A. Lynch, principal of Mt. St. Joseph's High School, Rutland, who spoke on the counseling of students for college; Rev. Lorenzo D'Agostino, Dean of Men at St. Michael's, whose topic was the adjustment of the student to college life; Mother St. John Gabriel, C.N.O., vice-principal of St. Mary's High School, St. Albans and Mother M. Emmanuel, R.S.M., registrar of Trinity College also discussed the preparing of students for college.

The Institute closed at a general assembly in the Cathedral High School Auditorium on Wednesday afternoon at 3:15 p.m.

The closing address was given by Right Rev. Msgr. William A. Crowley, superintendent.

ARNOLD SOCIETY HONORS CADETS

This year marks the inauguration of a chapter of the Arnold Air Society here at St. Michael's. Membership is a singular honor reserved for those A. F. R. O. T. C. cadets throughout the country who have proven themselves through high academic standing and performance of duty.

CHARTER MEMBERS

Eight charter members have been chosen from last year's corps on the basis of these qualifications. They are, Cadets Lt. Col. John McSweeney, Major Joseph Lally, Major Louis Siclari, Capt. Robert Jarvis, Maj. Alfred Setts, Capt. John Carroll, 1st Lt. James McDonald and 2nd Lt. Robert Roy.

These cadets were initiated into the national organization in a ceremony recently held at the University of Vermont. Guest speaker was Col. Earl Jacobson, P. A. S. T. of the U. V. M. program.

"HAP" ARNOLD

The Arnold Air Society commemorates the military services of Gen. "Hap" Arnold, a man whose contributions to the science of air power have made him famous.

FUTURE MEMBERS

As the year progresses more members for this society will be chosen from those who are taking advanced courses here. They will be selected by the charter members and pledged for a time to determine their worth as honor cadets.

The music for this occasion was provided by a quartet which is well-known in the vicinity of Lake Champlain. Left to Right: Stillie Millington, Bass; Burt Sisco, Drums, Gene Morin, Piano Accordion and Leader, Bill Cofrances, Tenor Sax and Clarinet.

Murphy (Owen) meets Murphy (Paul, Plus date) as the spirit of this festive occasion reaches a climax. Listening in to catch the joviality is Bob Bolster.

Senior Ball Capers At Country Club

The Seniors held their last class dance of their college careers last Saturday night and with due credit to all who helped to make it such a success, it will remain as a memorable event for all the participants.

FIRST OFF-CAMPUS BALL

For the first time since the post-war years, the Senior Dance was held off-campus. This year the class of '53 chose the Burlington Country Club as the scene of their biggest activity of this semester.

BUSY WEEKEND CLIMAX

The dance, preceded by the D.I.C. football game (a good game to watch, but a tough one to lose) was included in the price of the Dance ticket.

Two hundred people attended this gala affair which offered dancing from 8-12 P.M. with Bill Cofrances producing the harmonic sounds. Ed Carrier and Matt Burke, co-chairmen, and their committee deserve a great deal of credit for their splendid work in making the dance the success that it was.

The theme of the dance was an Autumn Setting. The ballroom was gaily decorated with leaves and both fire-places were surrounded with displays depicting the season, a very appropriate setting for this time of the year.

FIRST KEEPSAKES GIVEN

Miscellaneous souvenirs were given to the Seniors' dates and each couple received a class memento - a 'silent-butler' ashtray. This was also another 'first' for the Senior class; that of presenting class keepsakes. Every state in New England was represented by the seniors' dates.

Present at the dance was the Very Rev. Francis E. Moriarty who had just returned from his trip to the Air University at Maxwell Field in Montgomery, Alabama. Fr. Lanoue, Senior class Moderator, was also present. Dr. Jeremiah K. Durick, Mr. Robert Anshales, Dr. Francis S. Quinlan, and Mr. Harold Carr and their wives acted as chaperons.

McDonald Out Maroons Favored

The Purple Knights hit the road for the first time this year and travel to Springfield, Mass., to meet the Maroons of Springfield College.

Coach "Doc" Jacobs has plenty of worries as he heads south. The squad was riddled by injuries in the AIC game and many of the regulars are ready for only limited service. End Jim McDonald is definitely out, along with Bob Fontaine.

MORRIS AND CHANDLER

The Knights edged the Maroons 12-7 last year, but scouting reports indicate this club to be even stronger. The difference seems to be a transfer halfback who has been getting rave notices all year. He is Norm Morris, a transfer from Wake Forest, whom Jacobs terms as better than Salvucci.

In beating Norwich 34-7, the Springfield team featured the running of Morris and fullback Joe Chandler. Morris scored three times and had a 67 yard sprint called back. Chandler tallied twice.

Besides thumping the Horsemen, the Bay Staters fought to ties with Massachusetts (20-20) and New Hampshire

FR. MORIARTY ADDRESSES ROTARY CLUB

Our schools are failing in their primary responsibility because they are dissipating their energies in a thousand different directions.

That was the warning sounded recently by Very Rev. Francis E. Moriarty, S.S.E., president of St. Michael's College, speaking to the St. Albans' Rotary Club.

MODERN INROADS

"The principal objective of education on any level should be," Fr. Moriarty said, "the development of the intellect. To show, however, that this objective is being befogged, I would remind you of certain modern, dangerous inroads which belie the very objective that I am assuming is obvious."

"Such stress on the secondary level as the great devotion to physical education, the recent promulgation of an intense program of indoctrination against Communism, the much heralded driver-training program during school hours, all point to a certain pragmatism which bodes harm for American Education."

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVE

Fr. Moriarty, who was a high school principal in New York before becoming St. Michael's ninth president, declared that "when a school attempts to do too many things, it does none of them well. When the school becomes a stop gap for every emergency it becomes a tool to be used by federal and state agencies to supply for their every whim and fancy. It's things of this kind that lead me to believe that the objective of our educational program has been lost."

EDUCATION -- FOR WHAT?

In a recent address given by James B. Conant, president of Harvard University, one of this country's most well-known institutions was put in a peculiar position by its short-sighted leader.

This case is a good demonstration of the fact that the possession of degrees and the attainment of a well-balanced understanding are not by any means synonymous.

ERRORS OF A COLLEGE PRESIDENT

President Conant termed all non-public schools, (which includes both private and parochial) as "divisive" and "dangerous to the unity of our country."

A closer, or perhaps more honest an observation would have revealed that just the opposite is true. The private and parochial school systems serve as a check on the public school.

A check, and also a stimulus. Competition can, of itself, offer little. But with direction it can increase our educational facilities as well as limiting the abuses of them.

EDUCATION, TO WHAT END?

For those who compete, the highest and best efforts are required to produce the most desired ends. The private and parochial systems help to keep the public schools at their highest standards.

But it is difficult, of course, to determine accurately what these standards are.

Children are the responsibility of their parents. Clear enough. And parents are brought before municipal courts when they neglect their children because the courts recognizes the dependence of the children and the rights which they possess.

DOING IT THE HARD WAY

Parents who are strikingly unworthy or incapable of performing these duties are punished. So much for that. But how much more necessary is it to see that the child receives the right views on life, both temporal and spiritual? And, in the long run, how much simpler and easier for everyone?

Since it is the parent's right to educate his children according to his conscience, how much more important is it for some children to be educated in private and parochial schools?

Some parents, recognizing their spiritual destiny, send their children to these schools, especially those of some religious denomination, to prepare them for life. Is this "divisive?" Is this "a threat to our democratic unity?"

AN EXAMPLE OF MERIT

The accusation of President Conant fails to make any mention of only one of the real merits of our private and parochial schools. As an example of this merit we need go no farther than Burlington, Vt. Burlington's public school system educates only half the school children.

The private and parochial systems, with the Catholic Church leading, supplement the work of the public system at no public expense.

Is this a subversive activity?

To say that everyone recognizes the high taxes, Federal, state and local would be an understatement. But they are nevertheless paid and Burlington would not readily accept higher local taxation for a complete public education of all local children.

A MATTER OF FINAL ENDS

On the other hand, children are sent to private and parochial schools simply because their parents want them there, and consider the matter quite serious enough for them to pay this extra bill themselves. The attendance at these schools requires extra financial expenses to be met by the parents as they must educate their own children and also pay for public school operation.

Do we wonder that Catholics and others who support parochial and private schools are not particularly rich?

SITTING ON THE BRANCH YOU'RE CUTTING

It seems that President Conant in damning both the parochial and the private school systems has brought his own words down upon himself. Is not his own "Fair Harvard" a privately run institution? Can he afford to use such hypnotic words as "divisive" and "a threat to our democratic unity" in these emotional times without even considering his own position?

It is indeed a grave misfortune that a man in so authoritative an office as is President Conant should be so ignorant. The danger lies in the fact that his voice has reached the ears of many who are virtually incapable of bringing their judgment to bear upon someone who has attained a higher temporal stature.

A Letter To The Editor

We would like to take the opportunity at this time to thank the members of Trinity College for their fine support at the football games.

In particular we wish to praise the spirit shown by a group of about a dozen girls who sat near the band at the A.I.C. game last Saturday. Their lively vocal support of the team was very refreshing.

It is our further hope that the men of St. Michael's will endeavor not to be outdone by the women of Trinity in the support of our teams.

Sincerely,
The Pep Squad

LAST CHANCE TO GET TICKETS

Saturday, October 26, is the deadline for students who want to subscribe to the Burlington Community Concert series. Tickets for the four concerts are sold in advance.

The four concerts cost students $3.00, and adults $6.00.

The Buffalo Symphony Orchestra with Eugene Istomin as piano soloist, is scheduled December 7. Claudio Arrau, recording pianist, will open the series November 17. The other two artists will be announced as soon as the number of memberships is determined. Tickets can be obtained from Mr. Donoghue in the Public Relations Office or from Ed Daly, Ryan 105.

Foreign Films

The Fleming Museum Association has opened its season's program series with "Movies of the Silent Era." In this group, of stills were seen such figures as Teddy Roosevelt, Thomas Edison, Woodrow Wilson and Sarah Bernhardt. Also screen "greats" of that time appeared. The names of some of them are still familiar to us as, for example, Wallace Beery and the inimitable Charlie Chaplin.

DOUBLE PROGRAM OFFERED

This is just an example of the type of program the Museum Association offers to local students. This year two series of programs will be offered. Series A began last week with the silent movies just described and will continue throughout the year with eight additional evenings of entertainment in the form of movies, concerts and lectures. Next in this series will be "I've Always Loved You," a technicolor musical presenting the piano artistry of A. Rubinstein.

FOREIGN FILM SPECIALTY

Because of the many requests, five foreign films will be presented in the special series B. The first of these, "The Baker's Wife," a French comedy will be presented October 29. Italian, Russian and British reels will comprise the remainder of the group.

SATIRE, SUBTLETY, WIT

If you are not acquainted with the British treatment of comedy, there is "Passport to Pimlico." Its subtle satire and flights of whimsy are a welcome change from Hollywood's forthright slapstick.

These are the two series A and B. Such a variety of entertainment is offered in order to interest every student. Schedules have been posted on the school bulletin boards, giving the date, time and a short description of each program.

SPECIAL STUDENT RATES

All the programs will be held in the Museum Auditorium. If you wish further information, call 4-4511. Student membership in each of the series for the entire year is $1.00. Tickets may be purchased now at the Fleming Museum or at the time of the first program.

HILLTOPICS by FRANK HOBEN

Here's one thing we don't get. How is it that week after week the Purple Knights never seem to go up in their New England ratings? Win, lose, or even draw, although they haven't as yet, St. Michael's remains far on the bottom of the list as far as small schools are concerned. The situation would be acceptable if the team was that lowly in comparative talent with the rest of the little fellows. But it is a cinch they are not.

The main source of discontentment springs from the weekly meeting of the Coaches Association in Boston. Most of the mentors in the immediate vicinity and a few others gather each Monday, hashing over the previous weekend's play, swapping stories etc.

There can usually be little controversy over the positions of the larger schools, for their merits are generally obvious. There is no danger in placing Brown on the bottom, and generally no trouble in calling Holy Cross the best. But when attention is turned to the smaller clubs, the mishaps begin to take place.

Naturally all of them cannot be satisfied with their positions. There is bound to be some controversy. But in the case of the Knights, there seems to be reason for this placement which we do not understand, especially when considering some of the "Phenoms" ranked above them.

A week ago (following the UVM victory) the coaches saw fit to call SMC the 11th smallest team in the section. Meanwhile the Maine Black Bears were being called the best, despite the fact that they could beat the UVM Cats only 14-6 and St. Michael's beat them by 19-0. Yet it had to take a back seat by ten teams worth.

Now comes the prize move. In holding AIC, previously having beaten Amherst 21-0 and Northeastern 41-7 and ranking fourth, to a 13-7 margin and to many eyes outplaying them, the Purple gained no recognition at all. In fact the opposite is true. The panel drops SM to 13th, and "punishes" the Aces by moving them to fifth spot. This hardly seems logical. But it is only the beginning.

Let's take a look at a few of the combines supposedly stronger on their showings to date. Rated eighth are the Lord Jeffs of Amherst who have won one game (and check that AIC score). Rated tenth is Springfield, who will be met today in the Bay State town. They show only solitary victory and two ties in four outings. However, we'll admit the calibre of their opposition to be strong.

And who do we find in the third position? Maine. Having had plenty of trouble in each game, and being upended by U. Conn., last week. Based on the showings in this vicinity, AIC is a better club than the Pine Tree staters, and so is SMC.

Actually it is a small thing and maybe not worth the time. But when the season's final polls are conducted we want to see the Knights rated on their true ability and not just on the record. They're a better ball team than 2-2 indicates, and we think capable of playing any of the "little" elevens on even terms.

'ROUND ROBIN' GETS DEBATERS TO GOOD START

As a preliminary warmup and for practice for the new members, the Debating Team is competing in a "Round Robin" Debate. The four colleges participating are Champlain, the University of Vermont and St. Michael's.

FAIR EMPLOYMENT ACT

The representatives from St. Michael's and their moderator, Mr. Edward Murphy, have already journeyed to Middlebury to discuss the merits of the Compulsory Federal Fair Employment Practice Act.

John Carroll and John Stebbins argued in the affirmative while Paul O'Herin and John Lawrence negated. The team won two out of the four debates.

CHAMPLAIN AS HOST

Last Thursday, Mr. Murphy took a second team across the lake to Plattsburg where Champlain College was host. This time Craig Tynan and Joe McCann affirmed the same question while Don and John Burnett argued against the act. No results of this debate were available at press time.

Next week St. Michael's will be host. The debate will wind-up at U.V.M. during the week after that.

SPRINGFIELD

(13-13, and were beaten by Harvard's Crimson 28-7.

A ROBUST LINE

The Knights know that the defensive lines will be a hard one to crack. Springfield was the last eleven to shut out the locals blanking them 23-0 in 1950. And, again this fall, they have a robust line.

Meanwhile the Purple is riddled with injuries. Ends Dick Stokes and Dave Foley, center Paul Aumand, full-back Ted Bergeron and the halfback combination of Mike Carr and Carmine Parrella are handicapped in one way or another.

Carr was a doubtful performer following last week's game, but his bad leg has responded to treatments pretty well and Coach Jacobs plans to start him today. However, the amount of service he will see is still unknown.

Should St. Michael's lose (perish the thought) it would be the first time since the 1949 opener that they have dropped below the .500 mark. A victory would give them a 3-2 record, a lead in the series, and send them into next week's Bridgeport game on the good side.

Knights To Go On Hoop Air

INTRAS OPEN

By BILL WIGMORE

Ryan Hall IV took an early lead in the Fall Basketball Intramurals as they dumped Ryan III and the Pre-theos by the count of 33-28 and 47-17 respectively. Behind Chuck Frascatore, Jack Sheehan and John Carpenter, they led all the way in the opening contest, despite the efforts of Bob Bolster, whose 12 points were high for the Ryan III Squad.

It was almost no contest in the game with the Pre-theos who failed to score in the opening period and thus were at a disadvantage the rest of the game. Carpenter garnered 14 for Ryan IV while Ray Maloney led the losers with 11 points.

FROSH GETS 15

Behind Hooks Mancini and Tom Lovett, Ryan II beat out Ryan I 37-28. The game was all tied up at halftime and still close at the end of the third period, but Ryan II ran away with the final quarter and the game.

St. Leo's trimmed St. Williams, 35-30, with John Mark-samer tallying 14 for the winners while Dave Quinlan paced the losers with 10. In another contest, St. Patrick's made a vain bid to knock off St. James by playing a strong half, but the margin was too great and the St. James' boys walked off with a 29-27 victory. Chris Bogiages starred for the Freshmen with 15, while Jack Kendrick led St. Pat's with eight.

OLD III AGAIN

Old Hall IV beat St. John's 39-37, while Old Hall III, last year's champs, was victorious over Old Hall II, 57-32. In the latter contest Dennis Taber and Chris Kelly led the victors with 17 apiece while Jack Thompson dropped in 13 for the losers.

The Off-Campus team from Winooski came from behind to lick Burlington 33-32.

All the St. Michael's College home basketball games and those of the University of Vermont will be broadcast this winter by a five station Vermont network.

Athletic Director George "Doc" Jacobs received word Monday that WJOY in Burlington will originate broadcasts from the Burlington Memorial Auditorium. Other stations to carry the series will be WSKI in Montpelier; WSYB in Rutland, WTWN in St. Johnsbury and WIKE which went on the air at Newport on October 12.

BREAD WINNERS

Last winter, WJOY carried all the St. Michael's home games and transmitted some of them to WSKI.

Half the cost is being sustained by the Betsy Ross Bakers with the other half to be paid for in each city by a local sponsor. Zenith TV will be the Rutland sponsor.

The series begins with McGill of Montreal playing St. Michael's November 27 and ends with Champlain playing St. Michael's and U.V.M. the first week in March. A total of 23 games, including state competition, will be carried.

Foreign Affairs Test Given Here

The Department of State has recently announced its 1953 trainee program to colleges and universities throughout the country. Seniors and graduate students with good backgrounds, in political science, economics, public administration, international relations or related fields and who are interested in a career in foreign affairs management may be considered for the program.

The Foreign Affairs Management Trainee program is designed to secure a limited number of carefully selected trainees who possess outstanding potential for eventual promotion to top level executive and managerial positions.

SALARIES FROM 3 G'S UP

Beginning salaries for the program, which begins in the summer of 1953, are $3410 and $4205 per annum, depending on individual qualifications and requirements of the department.

The department is again planning to use the civil service commission's junior management assistant examination as part of the selection process for its 1953 program.

PROGRAM CLOSING SOON

This examination opened October 14, and will close November 11, 1952. It is important that students who wish to be appointed in the department compete successfully in this examination.

Nomination boards, composed of faculty members, will assist the department on each campus by screening qualified students from among junior management assistant competitors and nominating the most outstanding candidates for consideration by the department of state. Nominating board selections must be received in the Department of State not later than February 16, 1953.

RESPONSIBILITY DEMANDED

Trainees will generally be assigned to administrative and managerial activities in Washington in keeping, where practical, with the interests and background of the individual trainee. About 90% of the trainee's time is spent in regular work assignments under the guidance of a training counselor; the remaining time being allotted to orientation, counseling and seminars.

Students interested should contact the Placement Director, Mr. Hebert, Room 115, OCD Hall.
